HYDRANT FLUSHING

Each spring we flush the distribution system to clean out the lines. While flushing, the iron sediment that has settled in the pipes will be dislodged and can find its way into your plumbing. We recommend not doing laundry on that day and running your water for a few minutes after our flush to clear your lines of sediment. Please understand that although we will try to be sure the water stays in the street or ditches, there is a potential for landscaping to be affected. Those properties that have gravel, mulch and other landscape materials in the drainage right-of-way up to the edge of the roads, run the risk of minor "wash outs". Our only option is to skip those areas when flushing. Recent experience has shown us that is not a good option. We need to opt for water quality over landscape effects. We will attempt to keep the effects to a minimum, but we ask you to help by edging your vulnerable areas to keep the water away.
